

The Joint Commission resumed on-site surveys and reviews in June, with additional safety protocols to protect our customers, their patients, and our surveyors.

The Joint Commission is committed to working closely with health care organizations, with safety being